AWARDS MATCH
Shot Execution

THE POINT

Archers will focus on their shot execution and aiming to gather the Floppy Bunny's eggs which have been scattered across Archery Land.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

- 2 Arrows per archer
- Targets, up to 4 archers per target, with no target face
- Egg Cutouts (Appendix A)
- Basket Cutouts (Appendix B)
- Floppy bunny (Appendix C)
- Masking Tape
- Markers for decorating or naming each team's basket and bunny.

RANGE CHANGE

1. Using attached printout, print one sheet per target of decorated eggs, one Basket, and one bunny per target.
2. Adhere eggs at random to each blank target. Adhere the bunny cutout near the center of the target. (See Figure 1.)

Coach's Tip: Place eggs nearer to the center of the target for less advanced archers. For advanced archers, scatter eggs widely across the target.

3. If you have a convenient wall space or bulletin board, attach one basket for each team. Archers may label the basket with a creative team name.
4. Place two arrows per archer in the ground quiver in front of each target.

PROCEDURE

1. One archer from each team will shoot at a time. Be sure to inform your archers that it is not a race.
2. Ideally, each target will have the same number of archers, but no more than 4 archers per target.
3. Each archer will shoot two arrows, attempting to hit any of the eggs on their target. Any arrow that hits the bunny will result in a penalty of one egg, which will be placed back onto the target.
4. The next archer in line will then step to the line to shoot their two arrows.
5. Once each archer has taken a turn, and all archers are behind the waiting line, have one archer per team advance to the target. This archer will pull the arrows and remove any eggs that were successfully shot. For any arrow that has hit the bunny, he steals an egg and one egg should be placed back on the target.
6. The archer will then place the team's arrows back in the ground quiver and move behind the waiting line. Once behind the waiting line, the archer can share the responsibility of adding or removing the eggs to the team's basket with their teammates.
7. The winner of the activity will be the team with the most eggs in their basket when class time runs out, or the first team to shoot and gather all the eggs in their basket.

SHOOT FOR THE GOLD

Being mindful of food allergies, provide decorated eggs for the winners, or for anyone who shoots an egg on the target.
